ABOVE AND TOP: Capturing water views and abundant natural light, the bright kitchen features white cabinetry and a walnut center island topped with marble. In the sophisticated breakfast area, Klismos-style barstools clad in blue leather and edged with cream piping from Holly Hunt, pull up to a bar wrapped in a deep walnut that adds warmth to the space.

ABOVE RIGHT: The grand salon's second seating area is the perfect place for the couple to enjoy Gulf views or an evening cocktail. Stylish and comfortable, it is arranged with four matching Century Furniture armchairs topped with sea blue accent pillows from Zimmer + Rohde.

A stunning Gulf Coast view helped inspire the transitional theme in this 7,000-square-foot, Enclave at Park Shore condominium in Naples. "The shape and architecture are traditional by nature, but because it is a beach house the plan was to use a tranquil color palette and clean line furnishings to give it a more transitional feel," interior designer Wendy Berry says. Berry's approach to client interaction was one of the key selling points for homeowners Hank and Ann Bernbaum, who are from the Midwest. "She was my first choice," Ann says. "She came to visit us in Illinois armed with fabric and paint colors ... her process was interactive."

To introduce depth in the entry, the W Design team designed an arc ceiling. "Creating spaces architecturally is one of the things we love to do," says the designer, who uses intricate ceiling details throughout to define the spaces.

IN THE HUSBAND'S OFFICE, GLASS WALL TILE AND A CUSTOM, OPEN FRAME DESK FROM W HOME COLLECTION Pairs WITH A HERMAN MILLER DESK CHAIR TO KEEP THE SPACE AIRY AND UNCLUTTERED.

Beyond the entry, Berry planned two seating areas in the grand salon. The first is a relaxed living space designed for family and friends to gather and enjoy TV or conversation. W Design's custom sofas from their private label, W Home Collection, a pair of cocktail tables and a square occasional table in a white hue balance the rustic wood beams and shape of the room.

Ann enjoys water views while preparing meals in an open gourmet kitchen newly created with a center island and custom cabinetry built by Woodworkers. Berry left room for a breakfast bar, and a more intimate dining area by the window arranged with a small round table and a pair of patterned chairs from Hickory White.

The grand salon's second seating area, fashioned with four armchairs, boasts breathtaking water views and is grounded by a custom area rug in a natural hue. The light-filled space is further illuminated by wall sconces from Visual Comfort and a modern fixture from Paul Ferrante.

Hank's office features a custom, open frame desk that was created to slide easily beneath the credenza. The sofa provides a perfect place to indulge in a novel from bestselling author Robert Ludlum, the condo's previous owner.

The den is arranged with furnishings in natural hues and textures. A custom sectional by W Design is covered in crosshatch chenille from Zimmer + Rohde, while a woven cocktail table from Ralph Lauren conveys an organic feel.

Berry designed the master suite with a regal four-poster bed grounded in comfort by a geometric patterned area rug from Surya. Mary McDonald for Schumacher draperies in a silver bird pattern, open wide to reveal a water view.

In Ann's elegant office, an intimate sitting area is fashioned with Hickory Chair's sofa edged with nailheads, and accented with a coral pop of color in pillows from Cowtan & Tout. "The owners let me accessorize everything to a T," Berry says. "I loved adding whimsical touches like paintbrushes in a black and tan basket. The perfect canvas for the designer to display her talents — this newly designed home would become the perfect retirement retreat for the couple.

“OUR GOAL IS ALWAYS TO CREATE COMFORT IN A HOME ... IT’S CASUAL, BUT IT’S ALSO SOPHISTICATED,” INTERIOR DESIGNER WENDY BERRY SAYS.

LEFT: In the sophisticated master suite, chenille lounge chairs pair with a cocktail ottoman from Lillian August to create a stylish sitting area that exudes luxury and comfort.

BELOW: An Oly Studio desk with a polished white finish and goat-hoof feet defines Ann’s office. Built-in shelving and a unique metal cocktail table add style, while soft lighting from a Currey and Company chandelier keeps the focus on the Gulf view.
